A Celebration of the Mountains

ANNUAL MEETING AND CELEBRATION

We are delighted to present "Food with a Story", a culinary collaboration between the renowned Chef Joanie Wolford of Savoir Fare Catering and C'est Bon and the esteemed forager and restoration ecologist Clay Morris. Together, they will weave a narrative that delves into the rich lore of early food landscapes found on and around the majestic Blue Ridge Mountains. Discover the ancient practices of cultivating native edibles that thrived in these pristine landscapes, and gain invaluable insights into how you can replicate these traditions on your very own property. In addition to this journey through history and nature, you will also learn about the dedicated efforts of Friends, an organization committed to preserving, enhancing, and celebrating our treasured Blue Ridge, learn who will be awarded this year's "Friend of the Mountains" all while listening to the sweet pickin' and harmonies of The Shorter Hill Mountain Boys
